BOTH BANDS IN BIG FREE CONCERT ON FRIDAY EVENING

Free Concert Will Be Given at Band Stand in Market Street Friday Evening—Both Bands to Participate.

Colonel J. Barbour Russell, manager of the Boys' Bands, announced Thursday morning that there would be a grand free open-air concert of both bands at the band stand in Market street Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. As the stand will be too small for both bands, they will be formed about the stand.

Because of the severe warm weather the members of the bands will not wear uniforms.

As this is the first free open-air concert of both bands—eighty musicians—it is expected that there will be a big audience to hear the program which will be far above the ordinary. The manager and director of the bands promise something new, novel and catchy in this program.

FUNERAL OF MR. JOHN JOLLY LARGELY ATTENDED.

The funeral of Mr. John Jolly, who died at his home in Ewing Monday evening, was held Wednesday afternoon and was largely attended. Mr. Jolly was 66 years old, and for many years was one of Fleming county's substantial farmers, but declining health compelled him to relinquish farm duties and he moved to this city, where he resided for several years. Returning to Fleming, he took up his home in Ewing. Mr. Jolly was an uncle of Mrs. William E. Powell of Forest avenue this city, who with Mr. Powell attended the funeral. The remains were buried in the Ewing cemetery.

THROWS SELF AGAINST TRAIN TO TAKE LIFE

Man Commits Suicide in Very Unusual And Horrible Manner at New Richmond.

The Augusta Chronicle says: Frank Tarvin, aged 41 years, committed suicide in a horrible manner at the New Richmond depot Friday. He and his wife had returned from Cincinnati to New Richmond on the traction line and were waiting for the arrival of No. 7 to continue on to California where they were visiting relatives. Mr. Tarvin sent his wife into the depot to get some gum, just at No. 3 was heard approaching, running at the rate of 60 miles an hour. It was evidently the intention of the demented man to jump in front of the train, but just as he started to do so, his wife screamed, and he turned his head to look at her; the engine passed quickly, but the man was determined to die and tried to throw himself under the train. His head was struck by one of the iron steps on the baggage car and practically every bone in his body was broken. Mr. Tarvin suffered a nervous breakdown several months ago and had been in a sanatorium, taking treatment.

BODY OF DECKHAND IS RECOVERED.

On Sunday while in bathing near the mouth of Turtle Creek August Tullner, James Mains, and Hugh McCane, discovered the body of the negro deck hand, who drowned from the steamer Chilo last week, and notified the Coroner, Dr. T. J. Moneyhon, who held an inquest, but failed to furnish any clue of identification, after which the corpse was buried on the beach on account of the bad state of decomposition.—Bracken Review.

CENTRAL KENTUCKY TOBACCO GROWERS WILL BE ORGANIZED

W. E. Hughes is Selected Treasurer of Co-operative Marketing Association.

The efforts of the organization committee of the proposed Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Marketing Association will be directed for the next few weeks toward the formation of complete organization forces in a group of Central Kentucky counties radiating from Fayette county. It was announced at the office of the organization committee Wednesday.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the executive committee at the headquarters offices Tuesday afternoon. The schedule of meetings for the intensive organization efforts has not been completed, it was said, but the counties to be thoroughly organized in the next six or eight weeks are Fayette, Scott, Woodford, Jessamine, Garrard, Clark, Bourbon, Bath, Franklin and Montgomery.

Bourbon and Franklin counties have incomplete organizations, which, however are expected to be completed in a short time. Bedford Mackin is county chairman of the organization committee in Franklin county. In Bourbon county Samuel Clay and John Woodford have been selected to head the organization work. In these counties, as in all others where the organization goes, committees will be selected from each magisterial district or other convenient geographical unit and precinct workmen will be selected to carry the campaign to the individual growers in the effort to secure signatures to the contract of the association. W. E. Simms, member of the organization committee, will have charge of the preliminary organization work in Woodford county, and Joseph E. Robinson, also a member of the general committee, will assist in the organization of Garrard county.

W. E. Hughes, of Louisville, secretary of the organization committee, was selected as treasurer at the meeting of the executive committee Tuesday and will be trustee of all contracts and funds of the organization until the permanent organization is formed after the necessary percentage of tobacco has been pledged to the association. He will be under bond for the full amount of all funds through the organization committee.

The New York Stock Exchange has 1100 members. A "seat" on the exchange ranges in value from $70,000 to $100,000 each.

The chief address will be made by Dr. George Colvin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction who is expected to arrive in Maysville Friday to inspect the local Normal school and remain over for the rally.

Hon. Stanley F. Reed, of this city, will also speak during the afternoon. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

MOONSHINERS USED HOUSE AS STORAGE.

The Flemingsburg Times-Democrat says:

One day last week our old friend W. G. Martin, living on North Fork, between Foxport and Bowman Springs, went to an unoccupied house on his farm and found that some enterprising moonshiner had made a storage room of the house for a lot of malted corn and other goods used in the manufacture of murder-juice. Mr. Martin went to Foxport and reported what he had found, but before the officers got there the stuff had been moved, and although they traced it into the forest up the mountainside they were unable to get in touch with it.

OBLIGATION OF THE STATE TO CHILDHOOD.

Judge Ben. B. Lindsey made a striking address recently before the National Education Association on "The Parenthood of the State."

He argued that the conception and founding of the free school system itself was the acknowledgement of the responsibility of parentage on the part of the state, and that it is logical to assume that the state has an obligation of the same character to perform in conserving the health and morals of its children.

The state should see that laws scientifically framed guarantee that the child shall be well born and reared in a proper home, and that it is as far as possible protected from the taint of disease, insanity and crime, and from the evil effects of poverty, ignorance and under-nourishment.

This may be called paternalism by some, and yet we no longer think of our system of public education as paternalistic in any sense.

The world is making rapid progress in the study of this great question, and it is high time that steps were taken to throw the strong arm of society about the multitude of boys and girls who are being brought into the world under a heavy handicap and reared in surroundings which blight their lives before they have fairly begun. "The time to save a boy bandit is in the nine months before and the nine months after his birth," Judge Lindsey insists.

Herbert Hoover has said that "if we could grapple with the whole child situation for one generation, our public health, our public efficiency, and the moral character, sanity and stability of our people would be advanced three generations in one."

There can be but little question that in the far future men will look back upon the present period and those that have passed as in a real sense "dark ages" for the race, and shall marvel that society was so immeasurably blind and unintelligent in its care of childhood.

No progress is possible for the world except as each generation is lifted in its formative period to a higher level physically, mentally and morally.

The world war revealed suddenly the woeful effects of a policy of neglect with respect to the health and education of the young of the nation. Multitudes of men called into the military establishment by the selective service act were found to be mentally deficient and physically incapable of bearing arms. Tens of thousands were wholly illiterate and other tens of thousands were suffering with defects due to neglect and which could have been, and were, in many instances, remedied completely.

Sixteen million of the school children of the country today have physical defects which are in most cases remediable, but which are being allowed to go without proper treatment. Certainly the neglect in this direction is a positive disgrace to an enlightened people. When children are placed in school by a compulsory education law they have a right to expect as scientific and skillful attention as the soldiers received who were drafted into the camps in time of war.

Dr. T. D. Wood, of Columbia University, says:

"The scattered, partial, spasmodic efforts made at present for child health are hardly more than drops in the great ocean of a nation's need for the real welfare of its children. It is impossible to estimate with accuracy the loss to the nation and to the world caused by failure to conduct a 100 per cent. program in the field of child health.

"Our schools are wasting enormous sums in educating, or trying to educate, the children who are handicapped by ill-health when the expenditure of much smaller amounts in a judicial health program would produce an extraordinary saving in economy and efficiency. A dollar spent promptly in a timely, constructive effort to conserve a child's health will be more fruitful for the child and for human society than will a thousand dollars applied twenty years later. The principle of national thrift finds its first and most vital application in the conservation and improvement of the health of the children."

Such work done for childhood now will "multiply like stars at night," and steel the sinews of the nation, and light the future of the race with a new and better hope.

RESPECT FOR THE FLAG.

To any one who has been in service, it gives a shudder to see how patriotic citizens in their ignorance insult, or rather show disrespect for the American flag, which they love or they would not display it. These well meaning citizens when they put up the flag on some holiday invariably turn to the blue field to the right and not to the left as the regulation. On Flag Day in one city of 100,000 in the middle west it was found that at least one third of the flags were put up the wrong way, the field to the right instead of the left. This was on homes, schools, churches, theaters and even public buildings. Patriotic societies would do well to see that the people are educated on flag courtesy and regulation.

SAVINGS PAY DEBTS.

The end of the fiscal year on June 30th showed that the United States has not only spent less than it has received, but has been able to apply about 1,022,000,000 on the national debt. That encouraging situation is due entirely to the courageous action of the last Republican Congress in cutting about a billion and a half dollars from the demands for money submitted by the Democratic administration. Had the total of those estimates been granted, we would now be facing an increase of several hundred millions in the National debt, instead of a decrease of a billion.

JAP SHIPS PAY.

One of the largest Japanese steamship companies has declared a dividend of 25 per cent. Meanwhile the vessels of the United States Shipping Board are being operated at a monthly loss of $16,000,000. Those two facts give some indication of the gigantic task before Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board.

INCOME CLAIMS SHOW REDUCTION IN PAST THREE MONTHS

Bureau of War Risk Insurance Reports Great Decrease in Claims For Compensation.

A reduction of 29,476 in the number of pending compensation and insurance claims of former service men and women has been effected during the last three months of the fiscal year ending July 1, 1921. It is announced by Director C. R. Forbes of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. This reduction in the number of claims on which final action is still to be taken has been accomplished notwithstanding the fact that new claims have been reaching the bureau during that period at an average rate of 700 to 800 a day, and that the new cases receive at once as complete action as is possible on the data presented.

On April 1, 1921, there were pending before the Bureau 99,401 claims for compensation and 5,788 insurance claims; on July 1, 1921, the account 67,000 pending compensation claims

Mrs. McCumber Avoided a Serious Operation by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Time

Georgetown, Ill.—"After my first baby was born I suffered so with my left side that I could not walk across the floor unless I was all humped over, holding to my side. I doctored with several doctors but found no relief and they said I would have to have an operation. My mother insisted on my taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I can do all my own work and it is the Vegetable Compound that has saved me from an operation. I cannot praise my medicine too highly and I tell all of my friends and neighbors what the Compound did for me."

Mrs. MARGARET McCUMBER, 27 S. Frazier St., Georgetown, Illinois. Mrs. McCumber is one of the unnumbered thousands of housewives who struggle to keep about their daily tasks, while suffering from ailments peculiar to women with backache, sideaches, headaches, bearing-down pains and nervousness, and if every such woman should profit by her experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial they would get well.

000 cases. The experience in handling war risk cases so afforded these doctors, temporarily detailed from field service, will be of further assistance and value to the work of adjudicating war risk bureau claims when the doctors shall have returned to the field and when legislation may have made the establishment of regional offices with authority for complete action on cases an accomplished fact.

TO AID RURAL HOMES.

Washington, D. C.—Development of rural homes to the end that farm life may be more attractive is provided in a bill reported favorably to the Senate by Senator Smoot, of Utah, chairman of the Senate Committee on Public Lands.

This bill authorizes the Secretary of the Interior, through the United States Reclamation Service, to make contracts, first, for the investigation, and later if found feasible, for the construction, of projects for the reclamation and development of lands in private ownership located throughout the United States. The proposed legislation is unique in that it does not call upon the Public Treasury for any funds, not even for preliminary investigations or for the time given by Government officials to consideration of projects. First, the estimated cost, and subsequently the actual cost, both for investigations and construction, must be deposited with the United States in advance before any expense is incurred by the Government.

The Secretary of the Interior is empowered, after reclaiming and developing the lands, to provide for their sale to home seekers, and he is enabled to limit the returns of the original landowners to a reasonable profit definitely stated in advance in each contract providing for the development of a project, in this manner promoting and safeguarding the interests of the home seekers settling upon the land so developed.

New York Letter

by

New York. — Of all placed in the world, I never would have expected waste space around a stock exchange to be devoted to anything as sentimental as gorund and grass. But the new Curb market sports a regular "front yard," sodded with 6500 feet of soil, grass and—of all things—shamrocks! It will be the only building in the Wall street district to look out upon a lawn except Trinity and old St. Paul's churches. Of course nearly every punster in town has sprung his little joke about its being there "for the lambs to gambol on."

Tracey D. Bailey is one of the most consistent crooks I have come across in a long time. He was arrested the other day for thefts committed in the Brook Club where he was a waiter. And what had he stolen? What, indeed, but six columns of "Lessons on Thrift!" He confessed that he stole the books in order to raise money—thrifily—to visit acquaintances in Maine.

"And then they took you up!" tells the fairly complete story of the matrimonial tragedy of Luther and Jessie Binkley who were married last December. Mrs. Binkley has just been granted a divorce. Her husband, she explained to the court, resented her suggestion that she buy clubs for him. The judge, also a golfer, expressed the opinion that they would never get along again. "Golf," he said, "is a funny game."

Closed or open shop in the theatrical world means nothing whatever in the lives of Eddie Foy and his family. For Eddie and all of the little Foy's are going to make up the cast of a comedy just written for them by Willard Mack. So far as is known, this is the first time that a play has been produced with a single family making up the entire company. Foy himself will be producing manager, musical conductor stage director, owner, and of course the star. Besides being first class actors, the "little Foy's" are excellent musicians, stage hands and electricians. So Eddie insists he has a closed shop of the kind that will make him no trouble at all.

In the new telephone directory of our city just issued, the old-time battle of the Cohens and the Smiths for numerical predominance once more goes to the Cohens, if one counts in their kinsmen, the Cohens. Of course the Smiths insist upon a same-spelling count; but the general opinion is that the extra e isn't a serious difference and that the Cohens are victors, with 1,718 of them in the book to a mere 1,415 Smiths.

Across the Hudson from Manhattan seems a long ways off in a good many ways. And never more than in the summer time when that land up above the Palisades becomes a territory of tent campers. It is looking over at Riverside drive these days with the supreme content of a country which has freed itself from all the toll that possesses the other. Carefree—except for mosquitoes and occasional camp cooking, the summer tent owners make themselves at home on that high cliff, revel in sundry beaches of real sand along the shore and play their phonographs at night all undisturbed by city limitations.

Anyone who thinks for one minute that modern woman has ceased to stand in awe of her masculine partner in life ought to hang around a woman's golf tournament some time. They looked quite joyous and emancipated, those chic, attractive women at the Metropolitan tournament down at the Nassau Country Club the other day—until they discovered one particularly thorough morning paper, which had printed not simply the first and second place players of the day before but had

FAMOUS PRODUCER OF STAGE PLAYS ENTERS THE MOVIES

Richard Trenton Tully, World Famous Producer, Will Begin Production of Big Movies.

Richard Walton Tully, famed as a dramatist and theatrical producer, is about to seek fresh laurels, having just announced his entrance in the field of motion picture production. As Tully has never previously permitted any of his plays to be filmed, he has a great wealth of material at hand for screening, and has already completed arrangements with Associated First National for the filming of two of his most important successes, "Omar, the Tentmaker" and "The Maskerade." All productions bearing the Tully stamp will be personally supervised in every detail by the producer himself, and it is freely predicted that Tully's inventive genius and artistic perceptions, which have been responsible for many scenic and illustrative innovations on the legitimate stage, will find their fullest expression in the new medium of the motion picture.

In both pictures, "Omar, the Tentmaker" and "The Maskerade," Guy Bates Post will enast the same roles which he created upon the legitimate stage, and Tully has engaged James Young, who recently finished directing Kipling's "Without Benefit of Clergy," to direct him in these, his first screen appearances. As Art Director, Tully has engaged Wilfred Buckland, who until recently occupied a similar position with Famous-Players. Tully plans to do his picture production in and around Los Angeles, work upon the "Omar" film having already commenced at the Brunton Studios. Other famous Tully successes which he will eventually screen include "Keep Her Smiling," "The Flame" and "The Bird of Paradise."

It should not be understood, however, that Tully's film interests will in any degree interfere with his activities in the legitimate theater. He has almost completed a new comedy which he intends to present on Broadway next season, and in October will produce in New York the reigning London success, "The Right to Strike."

SELECTED COFFIN, ROBE AND MONUMENT BEFORE SUICIDE.

Mayfield. — Before taking a fatal draught of poison at his home near Wingo, William Leech visited an undertaker there, selected his coffin, burial robe and a monument, paid for them and made other arrangements for his funeral without intimating a purpose to take his life.

"INSECURITIES."

You may not know it, but somebody has been cheating you out of more than four dollars and a half a year. They have been doing it by selling fraudulent and worthless stocks to the American people. You personally may not have bought a share of these offerings of unscrupulous promoters, but the fact remains that half a billion dollars has been lost by your fellow countrymen through those "insecurities."

That sum which is the estimate of the Federal Trade Commission, amounts to considerably more than $4.59 for each man, woman and child in this country. Such a tremendous amount cannot be withdrawn from legitimate uses and investments and poured into the pockets of fakers without a tremendously detrimental effect to you and every other American.

A conservative estimate places at three hundred and fifty millions the amount withdrawn from bank deposits last year and wasted in this way while the remaining hundred and fifty million is accounted for by the Liberty Bonds given up by victims for scraps of paper.

"The war induced thousands upon thousands of Americans to become investors in Liberty Bonds and Victory Notes," says the Bridgeport Times. "Having tasted the joys of bond holding and coupon clipping, and experienced the rewards of economy and thrift, a large percentage of those investors looked for further and larger paying investments and so became easy prey for the swindlers."

"A strong drive has been made against these worse than criminals by the Post Office Inspectors but excluded from the mails they are turning to the telephone and personal solicitation with no apparent loss of business."

"Too much energy can not be shown in calling to the attention of the public the almost invariable loss which follows investments of this sort neither can too much support be given to any movement which has for its object the diverting into proper channels the savings of the uninformed and credulous, especially the foreigners, who are handicapped by lack of knowledge of both the American language and business customs."

The surest protection that can be offered against the attack of sharpers and peddlers of worthless stocks is the safe conservative and profitable investment of surplus funds in Government Savings Securities. They are adaptable to any income ranging in price at maturity from the $1 Treasury Savings Stamp to the $1000 Treasury Savings Certificate and are absolutely guaranteed against depreciation or loss as they may always be redeemed for more cash than was paid for them.

LITTLE BOY TUMBLES INTO KETTLE OF BOILING WATER.

Greendale. —The three-year-old son of Thomas Goodman, tenant at Lone Grove, fell into a kettle of boiling water. He was pulled out by his mother but was so badly scalded that death resulted in a few hours.

LOVE DEPUTY SHERIFF TAKES TWO STILL AND PRISONER.

Flemingsburg. — Single handed Deputy Sheriff Jackson raided two stills in ravines near Muse's Mills, arresting Herb Stacey and seizing ten gallons of moonshine whisky and a quantity of mash. Four men alleged to have been with Stacey made their escape.

WHISKY FOUND IN STABLE CLEARS LOUISVILLE MYSTERY.

Louisville. — Mystery surrounding the disappearance of two truckloads of whisky that former Police Captain Henry C. Curran permitted Clarence Bitzer "to take to a garage" was cleared up by the seizure of 112 full cases of the liquor and 60 empty cases in the stable of John F. Connelly. Connelly refused to discuss the matter. He was charged with having liquor in his possession contrary to the state prohibition law. He was released under a cash bond of $200.

Falmouth. — Lightning struck the N. C. Ridgeway warehouse but did not cause a fire. Several hundred thousand pounds of tobacco are in the building. Some of it in bulk was rained upon but the damage is small.

Our forefathers fought against Monopoly of Office, Kings and Aristocracy. They gave the world the greatest government under the canopy of heaven. A government of equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

Eighteen consecutive years is a special privilege, a monopoly of the office and condemned by the Men who Made the Nation.

BUY YOUR COAL DIRECT FROM MINE—BIG SAVING.

The high cost of coal is a thing of the past! At least, there are no complaints on this account—since the removal of government restrictions—among those who have learned how to buy coal. The way to buy coal is to get it direct from the mines. This saves several middlemen's profits. It saves hauling expenses. Anyone can now buy at mine prices, whether a carload buyer or one who used only ten or fifteen tons a year. This has been made possible through a plan evolved by a large and old-established concern, THE BERNICE COAL COMPANY, with main offices at 490 Como Building, Chicago.

This company has thousands of customers in various sections of the United States who receive all of their coal direct from the mines. These customers are pleased not only because of the many dollars they save every year, but also because of the quality of coal they are getting. Many write that they never before had coal that makes so little dust, that burns so well, leaving so few ashes. If you are a coal user—whether you use hard or soft coal, much or little—it will be greatly to your advantage to write the Bernice Coal Co. at once for prices, stating kind and quantity of coal you use.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Maysville adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

D. S. Stout, 22 East Second street, Maysville, says: "Just after my recovery from pneumonia, my kidneys began to give me trouble. My back had a steady dull ache and it hurt me to breathe. My eyes would get puffy underneath. I knew my kidneys were in bad shape and something would have to be done to check the disorder so I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. It didn't take long to rid me of my trouble. I take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."
